DAR Team

The DAR team organizes many lectures in various fields, where specialized professors and experts give lectures, each in his field.

Most of these lectures are recorded and uploaded to our YouTube channel.

The IELTS test is your way to immigration or academic study. In this lecture, we learned about the exam, its components, what are the most important techniques and skills for each skill, and we also discussed the most important resources to prepare for the exam. Dr. Mohamed Khalil Mousa is currently working as a teacher trainer at the American University in Cairo, and he is an English language teaching expert for more than 22 years. And you can find the lecture here:
